Angry Negroes Vote To March On Wallace

Alabama Governor To Get Direct Blame For Bombing Deaths

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Birmingham Negroes incensed over the bombing deaths of four of their children plan to march on Montgomery to lay directly before Gov. George C. Wallace their feeling that he is to blame for the slayings.

At their first gathering since the Sunday morning dynamite blast, an estimated 1,200 Negroes took a unanimous standing vote Monday night to endorse a march on the state house.

The vote came after three integration leaders called for non-violence and accused Wallace of causing the racial tension that led to the dynamite of the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church. No date for the march was set.

An afternoon funeral service for Carol Robertson, 14, one of the four girls killed by the blast, was scheduled at St. John's African Methodist Episcopal church.

The Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth told the rally that mass services for the other three victims will be held in the Sixth Avenue South Baptist Church—where the rally was held. The three were Denise McNair, 11, and Addie Mae Collins and Cynthia Wesley, both 14.

Negro leaders here and around the nation called for use of more federal power in Birmingham, but a government source in Washington said there was no legal basis to put additional troops in the city now. There are 300 federalized National Guardsmen on alert here.

Sheriff Melvin Bailey said two white teen-agers were arrested on an open charge in the slaying of one of two Negro boys shot to death a few hours after the dynamite blast.

City police said the other youth was killed when they fired buckshot at fleeing Negroes after a rock-throwing incident.

Booster Club, School Heads Air Differences at Meeting

Differences between the Circleville School administration and the board of education, on one side, and the Circleville Booster Club, on the other, were aired at a public meeting last night at the high school.

The meeting was called by Robert Brehmer Jr., president of the school board, to clarify board policies and the administration's duty in enforcing the policies, particularly concerning the refreshment booths at football games.

The discussion, which centered primarily around the Boosters' desire to have a refreshment booth at football games, became heated at times, although the groups were in apparent accord at the end.

At the outset of the meeting, Brehmer pointed out an apparent lack of communications between the board and the booster club had caused ill feelings.

HE STATED it was the school administration's duty to enforce policies approved by the board, and because of this duty, the administration has come under undue criticism from the Booster Club. Administrative personnel present.

Coffee Break Ends Runaway Attempt By Two Juveniles

A coffee break led to the apprehension of two Columbus juveniles by Circleville police.

Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Larry Pontious became suspicious of the youthful pair, 13 and 15 years of age, when they entered a downtown restaurant for coffee last night.

They followed the youths to their car when they left the establishment and asked to see their drivers' licenses. Both admitted they did not have any.

Upon interrogation, it was discovered the youths had taken the car, which belonged to the mother of one, loaded it with food, cooking utensils and bed clothing, and were running away from home.

THE LADS were cousins and they lived together with the parents of one.

They were reprimanded and then released to the custody of the father where they made their residence.

A full report was made to Columbus Juvenile authorities.

New Soviet-China Incident Reported

TOKYO (AP)—A new border train incident involving Communist China and the Soviet Union has been disclosed by Peking.

The reported friction occurred Sept. 9 at the Soviet border station of Naushki, site of a two-day sitdown strike by 92 Chinese two weeks ago.

In a formal note, Red China said Monday one of its trains bound from Moscow to Peking was suddenly ordered to speed up and pass the Naushki station, while the Chinese crew "was placed under the surveillance of large numbers of Soviet frontier troops and customs personnel."

Music Composer Dies

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Olivier Wallace, 76, composer of "Hindustan" and a music director at the Walt Disney Studios for 27 years, died Sunday.

ent at the meeting included Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of city schools, Richard Snouffer, high school principal, Paul Sarchet, faculty manager, and advisers of the Junior Class, the SOS and the Key Club.

The policy of permitting only the junior class and the SOS Club to have refreshment stands was set up several years ago by the board.

The feeling behind this policy stemmed from the fact the administration and the board at that time felt the activities provided ideal fund raising programs for the school youngsters.

And it was also felt the students could not compete with adults in this enterprise because of a lack of experience.

Other organizations which have not been permitted to have booths at the football games include the Parent Teacher Assn. and the Band Mothers.

LAST YEAR'S senior class was the first in recent years to have a surplus in the treasury upon graduation. Of the nearly $500 balance, $300 went to the library fund and $200 went towards the purchase of the trophy case.

A winning football team and favorable weather were attributed by the administration as prime factors in the surplus.

The Booster club contended the high school booths could not adequately serve the crowds at the games. They felt their booth would supplement the need and not take any profit away from the school organizations.

A comparison of first game figures indicated the business gained by the Boosters did hurt the school organizations.

Attendance figures at both games were comparable. However, last year the junior class grossed $221 as compared to $209 this year. The SOS grossed $129 last year and this year their total take was $72.

The Boosters took in $80, which approximated the total loss the two high school booths suffered.

Shop Center Tycoon Dies At Age of 65

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Don M. Casto Sr., 65, nationally known shopping center developer, died of a heart attack in his home today.

He was the developer of the nation's first shopping center here in 1931, and at his death he headed the nation's largest chain of regional-type centers.

A native of Cleveland, he spent his early youth in Quincy, Ill., moving to Columbus with his family when he was 13.

It was in 1928 when he conceived the idea of what is generally regarded to be the modern regional type of multi-store complexes. He entered the construction field after his return from World War I duty, and since has built thousands of homes, many large apartment, industrial and commercial projects.

He began the first shopping center in Grandview Heights, then a fast growing Columbus suburb. This was a neighborhood type center, and this idea was developed later into projects with a larger trading area.

He leaves his wife, Ruth; a son, Don Casto Jr.; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Benson, and six grandchildren.

U.N. Sees Trouble In Africa Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The thaw in Soviet-Western relations heartened delegates of 111 member states convening to open the 18th General Assembly today but trouble brewed over white rule in Africa.

Diplomats were expected to press demands during the 3-month session to follow up the limited nuclear test-ban treaty with further steps in easing East-West tensions.

Many kept an ear cocked for rumblings over racial strife in Africa.

The 32 African delegations have made plain they will concentrate their fire on the racial and colonial policies of South Africa and Portugal with demands for an economic boycott and renewed attempts to oust both nations from the world forum.

Britain also will be the target for Asian-African charges that it is supporting a white government in Rhodesia at the expense of the mainly black population.

The South Viet Nam government's struggle with the nation's Buddhists also is expected to touch off fireworks.

The United States said it will support a demand by 14 Asian-African nations for General Assembly debate on their charges that President Ngo Dinh Diem has suppressed Buddhist rights in South Viet Nam.

Normally the question would be aired first in the social committee which deals with human rights, but the Asian-Africans want a direct full-dress assembly debate.

Main attraction of the opening week will be the appearance of President Kennedy who is scheduled to deliver the U.S. policy speech Friday.

It will be Kennedy's first appearance before the assembly since 1961. A diplomatic luncheon has been arranged for him and Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson by Secretary-General U Thant. Kennedy is not expected to confer privately with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko or any other diplomats during his brief stay in New York.

Gromyko, head of the Soviet U.N. delegation, is expected to give his government's policy statement Thursday.

Foreign Aid Tied to Trade

Businessmen Hear JFK Plug for Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told American businessmen today that "disastrous" cuts by the House in foreign aid funds would damage the country's export trade as well as its security.

In a speech prepared for 400 executives at the White House Conference on Export Expansion, Kennedy made a bid for industry support in the administration's push for restoration of the aid money in the Senate.

"I hope you will join me in seeking to reverse these disastrous cuts," he said.

Although the two-day export conference was called to enlist business cooperation in the governmentwide effort to eliminate the balance of payments deficit, Kennedy devoted a third of his address to what he called "our much abused foreign aid program."

The White House foreign aid request was $4.5 billion, but after successive slashes by the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the House itself, the authorization bill now calls for only $3.5 billion.

Explaining his contention that the cuts would impair private commerce, Kennedy said: "No foreign aid program, of course, can or should substitute for private initiative. But it can assist in breaking the path; and that is an important reason for us all to give it support."

"These aid expenditures abroad are not, as is sometimes believed, the cause of our adverse balance of payments. More than 80 per cent of our current aid commitments are for expenditures in the United States; and next year offshore (foreign) expenditures by aid will be even lower."

"But aid can help our balance of payments by helping exports—and the recent cuts in this program by the House of Representatives, while saving at most only $20 million in American dollars on our balance of payments accounts, will have a severe impact upon our exports as well as our security."

Medina Withdraws Parochial Bus Aid

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—The Medina City Board of Education has reversed a decision to use public school buses to transport parochial school children this year.

The board voted 3 - 2 Monday night to discontinue pickups of parochial school children which had started Sept. 9.

A spokesman for the parochial schools said the matter might be taken to court.

The school board reversed its stand after getting an opinion from State Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, who said action by the state legislature is needed before public school buses can be put to such use.

Cindy's Winds Are Clocked At 80 Mph.

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Cindy slammed into the Texas coast at 8 a.m. (CST) today with winds of 80 miles an hour and then began disintegrating as it moved inland.

Cindy—third hurricane of the year and the only one that has reached the mainland—hurled high winds and tides at the Texas and Louisiana coast all night. The hurricane sprang up quickly and unexpectedly Monday and diminished as rapidly today.

The ill-defined eye crossed the coast between Galveston and Port Arthur.

Less than an hour later, Civil Defense authorities in the Port Arthur-Beaumont-Orange area told refugees to go home.

The authorities said damage was minor, although considerable loss to the pecan crop appeared certain.

An estimated 13,000 persons—most of them in Cameron Parish, La., fled ahead of the storm, as a half million did years ago this week. Carla killed 34 and did $500 million damage.

The Cameron evacuation was spurred by memories of hurricane Audrey in 1957 when more than 500 died in that low-lying section which was battered by monumental tides.

Civil Defense authorities said, "There is no major damage or flooding of homes anywhere so far as we know." The Texas Department of Public Safety said the same thing.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Reon said at Cameron, La., that Cindy failed to bring as much rain or as high tides as had been expected. He said water didn't get into Main Street this time—and two years ago, during Carla the street was navigable by motor boat.

In addition to the estimated 10,000 who fled Cameron Parish, Port Arthur sheltered 1,500 refugees, Beaumont 500 and Galveston 1,078. Civil Defense authorities said.

At least five boats were reported in trouble at one time or another in the Gulf of Mexico during the storm.

Twenty-six men trapped by the sudden forming of the storm, rode out the winds and battering waves on two offshore oil well drilling rigs. Crewmen on one rig reported 30-foot waves and 55 mile-per-hour winds.

Lake Charles Mayor Alfred E. Roberts declared his city in a state of emergency and said it was prepared to feed up to 10,000 refugees.

Salvation Army and other relief agencies moved in.

Port Arthur's 70,000 population boarded up, taped windows and sandbagged to reduce damage.

NATO Polaris Pact Ready for Signing

WASHINGTON (AP)—An agreement to establish a Polaris-equipped surface fleet for NATO may be ready for signing when the alliance's ministers meet in December, U.S. officials said today.

Since August, U.S. officials have been meeting with representatives of West Germany, Italy, Greece and Turkey on the political, technical and legal problems involved in setting up the multilateral force.

Steady and satisfactory progress has been made, officials said, and the administration has been pleased with the results.

$10 Million Damage Is Caused by Typhoon

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Government sources estimated today that typhoon Gloria caused $10 million to $15 million in damage in northern Formosa.

The storm struck the north end of the Chinese Nationalist island last Wednesday, killing at least 202 persons. The Air Force has begun helicopter drops of supplies to stricken villages.

Solons Continue Test Ban Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The limited nuclear test-ban treaty drew strong support today from Sen. Stuart Symington and strong opposition from Sen. Strom Thurmond.

"Unless there can be some understanding among the growing number of nations that will have the weapon, a nuclear holocaust is only a question of time," declared Symington, a Missouri Democrat.

Symington, a former secretary of the Air Force, said in a prepared Senate speech the treaty banning all but underground testing "will not affect to any appreciable extent our capability to destroy the Soviet Union if a retaliatory strike is required."

On the other side of the debate—which shows indications of continuing into next week—Thurmond, a South Carolina Democrat, charged the treaty constitutes "major risks and jeopardies to the capability of the United States to deter a nuclear war in the future."

The Senate granted unanimous consent Monday to move from debate on the treaty itself to consideration of the resolution of ratification, to which a series of reservations, understandings and interpretations have been offered.

But so many senators remain to speak on the issue that the goal of a final vote by Friday still appeared doubtful.

So far, 77 senators are committed to or inclined to vote for ratification. Thirteen are opposed. Ten are doubtful or undecided. Ratification requires a two-thirds majority of those voting—67 favorable votes if all 100 senators should vote.

Both Symington and Thurmond are members of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, which heard much military and scientific testimony critical of the treaty.

Symington lined up with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who held that there are military risks and disadvantages to the treaty, but that with safeguards for U.S. security the treaty was acceptable.

But Thurmond said in his prepared address that the military chiefs merely "went along with the White House," and that this was different from supporting the treaty.

"The chiefs of staff may not have been threatened outright, and most probably were not," Thurmond said, "but the chiefs live in an environment which daily demonstrates the rule of rigid compliance with decisions from above."

Symington said he had listened to the testimony of 44 witnesses as a member of both the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the preparedness subcommittee.

He said he did not believe the evidence "supports the conclusion that the treaty is sure to result in significant military or technical disadvantages to the United States."

Two Pickaway County granges and three professional organizations have endorsed the proposed Berger Hospital expansion and improvement levy.

Mt. Pleasant and Scioto Valley granges have voiced their support of the tax levy slated for a countywide vote next Tuesday. Professional groups supporting the levy include the Pickaway County Medical Assn., Dental Society and Nurses' Assn.

Explaining the needs of the hospital and the proposed levy to the various groups were Larry Priest and Wendell Emerine, representatives of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees offered full support of the levy when the hospital's board of governors decided to place the issue on a special ballot.

The five units endorsing the levy have been added to a growing list of city and county groups that have given official sanction to the tax levy.

Gov. Rhodes Names Himself Unpaid Salesman for Firm

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—The glass industry has returned to this city of 23,000 after a nine-month absence and, according to an energetic president and a self-appointed unpaid salesman, it won't be leaving again.

Some 200 persons, led by Gov. James A. Rhodes, followed 110 employees into a 75-year-old factory here Monday to watch the craftsman resume production of Tiffin glassware.

Officially, the plant is the Tiffin Art Glass Corp., but for those who want what is known as the finest hand-blown crystal stemware, the old brick building is the home of Tiffin glass.

"I'm going to be Tiffin glass," the No. 1 unpaid salesman, the governor declared after touring the plant and blowing part of a bowl. "Anything we can do, you can count on us." Rhodes told C. W. (Bill) Carlson Jr., the 32-year-old president of the new firm.

Rhodes promised that Tiffin glass will be on display soon in the Statehouse Rotunda in Columbus.

Carlson overcame heavy odds to reopen the plant, closed last December by the former owners, U.S. Glass Co.

"A lot of people said it was dead and I was just too foolish to know it," Carlson recalled.

Carlson, son of the man who brought Tiffin glass to world renown, joined three other former employees to start the new industry.

"This was the greatest sight I've ever seen—to see that glass flowing again," Carlson said.

Rhodes, accompanied by State Finance Director Richard Krach and Industrial Development Director George Wilson, said he was impressed by the spirit here. "The spirit of this town, the workers and management is the most important thing," the governor commented.

"Words and actions" of Wallace and the segregation system caused the Sunday deaths, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said at the rally.

The governor declined comment on the proposed march on the state capital and on King's accusation. He had said earlier he deplored the bombing and hoped the perpetrators would be caught.

They have not been caught. Neither have the persons who staged 21 other bombings in the past eight years.

Another investigation is under way by a federal grand jury, ordered by U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence William Allgood to look into possible interference with federal court school integration orders.

The city's first week of public school integration preceded the church bombing and resulted in boycotts and demonstrations by some of the white students of the three schools entered by five Negroes. Some adults also were involved in the first demonstrations.

CHURCH ADDITION — Construction began about three weeks ago on this new addition to the First Baptist Church. When completed the addition will include a temporary auditorium, pastors study, church office and additional Sunday School space.

Baptist Church Improvements Are Under Way

Additions and improvements are under construction at the First Baptist Church located at the north edge of Circleville on old Route 23. A temporary auditorium, pastor's study, church office and additional Sunday School space are among the plans for the local church. When completed, according to the Rev. Bob Wiley, the entire church property will be valued at in excess of $80,000.

The church opened here in 1957 and at that time services were held in the Masonic Lodge. Later the present property was purchased and the first unit was constructed. In 1959 an explosion of the heating system demolished much of the building. During the time of reconstruction members held services in Atwater School.

The Rev. Bob Wiley, celebrated his first anniversary as pastor of the church last Sunday.

Construction was started about three weeks ago by the Wenrich Construction Co., Medway, O., and is expected to be completed by early December.

Bond was set at $500.

Gov. Rhodes Names Himself Unpaid Salesman for Firm

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—The glass industry has returned to this city of 23,000 after a nine-month absence and, according to an energetic president and a self-appointed unpaid salesman, it won't be leaving again.

Some 200 persons, led by Gov. James A. Rhodes, followed 110 employees into a 75-year-old factory here Monday to watch the craftsman resume production of Tiffin glassware.

Officially, the plant is the Tiffin Art Glass Corp., but for those who want what is known as the finest hand-blown crystal stemware, the old brick building is the home of Tiffin glass.

"I'm going to be Tiffin glass," No. 1 unpaid salesman, the governor declared after touring the plant and blowing part of a bowl. "Anything we can do, you can count on us," Rhodes told C. W. (Bill) Carlson Jr., the 32-year-old president of the new firm.

Rhodes promised that Tiffin glass will be on display soon in the Statehouse Rotunda in Columbus.

Carlson overcame heavy odds to reopen the plant, closed last December by the former owners, U.S. Glass Co.

"A lot of people said it was dead and I was just too foolish to know it," Carlson recalled.

Carlson, son of the man who brought Tiffin glass to world renown, joined three other former employees to start the new industry.

"This was the greatest sight I've ever seen—to see that glass flowing again," Carlson said.

Rhodes, accompanied by State Finance Director Richard Krabach and Industrial Development Director George Wilson, said he was impressed by the spirit here.

"The spirit of this town, the workers and management is the most important thing," the governor commented.

ing and called on all Americans to put aside prejudices and to unite in working for justice and peace.

"Words and actions" of Wallace and the segregation system caused the Sunday deaths, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said at the rally.

He said Wallace "had allowed himself to defy the law of the land and to deal with Negro citizens in Alabama as if they didn't live in the state."

The governor declined comment on the proposed march on the state capitol and on King's accusation. He had said earlier he deplored the bombing and hoped the perpetrators would be caught.

They have not been caught. Neither have the persons who staged 21 other bombings in the past eight years.

FBI bomb experts continued to sift through evidence at the church for clues.

Another investigation is under way by a federal grand jury, ordered by U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence William Allgood to look into possible interference with federal court school integration orders.

The city's first week of public school integration preceded the church bombing and resulted in boycotts and demonstrations by some of the white students of the three schools entered by five Negroes. Some adults also were involved in the first demonstrations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson reported to President Kennedy today on what he called the very successful tour of northern Europe from which he returned only hours earlier.

Johnson flew back after midnight from the trip through Sweden, Finland, Norway and Denmark with a stopover in Iceland on the way home. The plane carrying him, his wife, Lady Bird, and their daughter, Lynda Bird, landed at Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

He said he was greatly encouraged by what he reported as recognition in the host nations of this country's objectives.

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Many of the people who live in hilly Mill Valley fled big city San Francisco for suburbia. Now it turns out, their City Council is holding meetings in San Francisco, 15 miles south across the Golden Gate.

Mill Valley Mayor Joseph Sheeks confirmed Monday that for the past two years the council regularly has been meeting in San Francisco's Franklin Hospital "over lunch."

Why Franklin Hospital? Council member George D. Monardo is hospital administrator and the other four council members work in San Francisco, the mayor declared.

MILLIONAIRE DEMONSTRATORS—Among the oddball types thronging outside the House Un-American Activities Committee hearing in Washington are the son and daughter of a Houston, Tex., millionaire, bearded Albert Maher, 21, and sister Sabina, 18, both seen standing in middle of the photos. This is the hearing on the trip of 58 American students to Cuba in spite of a State Department ban.

U.S. Industrial Production Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial production declined slightly in August after advancing steadily over the past seven months, the Federal Reserve Board announced today.

The index for the month was 125.6, a drop of almost a point from last month but well above the 119.4 registered in August 1962.

On the Federal Reserve's scale, 100 represents the 1957-59 average.

Construction activity and retail sales remained at record levels. Time and savings deposits at commercial banks rose sharply, the board said, although the money supply declined a little.

Silent Vigil Protest Scheduled at Oberlin

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Students at Oberlin College were scheduled to hold a 15 minute silent vigil at noon today to protest a church bombing in Birmingham, Ala., Sunday which killed four Negro girls.

About 300 University of Illinois students staged a similar demonstration Monday on the steps of the auditorium building in Champaign, Ill. Leaders said similar vigils are expected to be held at several schools throughout the country.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the only consolation for President Kennedy in these troubled days at home and abroad is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has climbed down off his back for a while.

Khrushchev's time is taken up with Red China, while Kennedy tries to cope with racial troubles in this country, with getting Senate approval of a limited nuclear test-ban treaty, and with restoring sense and order in South Vietnam.

The Soviets have treated the United States almost amiably, compared with the past, ever since this country and Britain signed the test-ban agreement with the Soviet Union in Moscow Aug. 5.

They have even been restrained about American racial disorders, although that's a subject made to measure for Communist propaganda. There can be any number of guesses about the reasons.

The Russians don't want to give Senate opponents of the treaty extra ammunition before the Senate approves or the Russians want a new era of better relations with this country because of their disaster with the Chinese.

The completely skeptical probably see in this Russian amiability and the test-ban agreement itself a cynical scheme to hypnotize the West into lowering its guard by giving it a false sense of peace and security.

But without any of those reasons there is another explanation for the Soviets' recently muted tones toward the West: the Soviet Union has its hands full with its former Chinese ally.

Since Aug. 5 the Soviet and Chinese attacks on each other—the Chinese denounced the test ban—have become as hysterical as Soviet-Chinese attacks on the West used to be.

This Russian-Chinese spilt, which would be plenty excuse for the Soviet Union to switch its major attention from West to East, is perhaps the greatest break for the Western world since the war.

The two giant Communist allies, working together, had the resources for endless mischief and perhaps unimagined gains in every corner and continent on earth.

As rivals they may well cancel out their ambition to communize the world although it seems certain Red China will never stop short of military defeat, trying to take over at least all of Asia.

Nevertheless, improved Russian-Western relations have their own

U.S. To Recognize Malaysia Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is recognizing the new state of Malaysia — which came into existence Monday—the legal successor to the old Federation of Malaysia.

Officials said today that despite the territorial addition of Sarawak, North Borneo and Singapore to the Federation of Malaysia, no formal new recognition is required.

President Kennedy sent a special representative, Deputy Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson, to the ceremonies launching the Malaysia federation at Kuala Lumpur. This in itself is recognition by Washington that the new state has come into being with the approval of the United States, officials said.

Non-Farm Payroll Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Non-farm payroll employment climbed 107,000 to 37.6 million from July to August, the Labor Department said today. This was less than the normally expected seasonal increase.

Harold Goldstein, spokesman for a Bureau of Labor Statistics team presenting employment figures, said the slowdown mainly was due to a larger than usual model changeover layoff in the auto industry and cutbacks in the steel industry.

Auto industry employment figures dropped 136,000 from July to August as most of the major auto manufacturers halted production to switch to the 1964 model. Goldstein said the layoff was larger than usual because 1963 has been one of the most successful auto years in history with larger than usual employment.

NEW YORK (AP)—It has been obvious for some time that evening television lacks one type of entertainment program. Well, we got it Monday night—a horror show.

The program was the first of a new series, "The Outer Limits," heralded as science fiction and complete with a monster—a chrome-plated three-fingered thing from a distant planet somehow pulled down by radio beams to Southern California.

It was very reminiscent of those jolly old scary movies—but with modern refinements. The creature from outer space lumbered around like a Frankenstein monster. It was preceded by gale winds. It dispatched enemies with electrical charges. He spoke and understood English, monster style.

Because the series comes at an early evening hour (7:30-8:30 EDT), it apparently is aimed at a youthful audience. It's the sort of nonsense that is likely to be boring to the post-21 viewers.

"Breaking Point," a new dramatic series dealing with people in need of psychiatric help, took over the ABC channel for a late evening hour (10-11 EDT).

The program seemed clinical, unnecessarily painful and failed to prove anything very much. But, apparently, there's a large and eager audience for this type of diversion.

ABC continues to pour its new programs and its old programs with fresh stories into the network channel.

Tonight's new entries are two, "The Greatest Show on Earth" is a dramatic series with a circus background starring Jack Palance as the owner of the outfit (9-10 EDT). "The Fugitive," (10-11) recounts the adventures of an innocent hunted man (David Janssen) who is trying to find the murderer of his wife, the crime for which he has been convicted. "Combat" returns for another season of winning the grim war in Normandy (7:30-8:30) and "McHale's Navy" sails back to continue the comedy conflict in the Pacific (8:30-9).

Ersatz Smokes

Scientists at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute in New York are smoking weird concoctions of cabbage leaves, dandelion and eggplant. For variety, they switch to cigarettes fabricated of carrots, mint, potatoe., petunias and hollyhock.

Strains of the space age have nothing to do with the peculiar smoking habits of Roswell Park employees. They are trying to find a "smoke" which is in no way harmful to the user, and which will permit the smoker to kick the habit without remorse.

They have already achieved the latter goal. Most of the employees of the institute who have been sampling their work describe the ersatz cigarettes as "terrible" at best, and frequently much worse.

Behind the experiment is the belief of the institute's director, Dr. George E. Moore, that the tobacco leaf at some time in the future may become unacceptable. If it does, the institute hopes to be prepared with a substitute.

It has a lot of experimentation yet to do before it reaches its goal. The "most palatable" formula so far devised is a blend of petunia, cabbage and dandelion leaves sprayed with mixture of sugar, cocoa, maple and glycerine and covered with a dressing of Jamaica rum and the herbs, tonka and deer's tongue.

Reading a list of the ingredients on the package would be enough to make most smokers swear off.

Soviet Economic Exploitation

By John Chamberlain

When and if the United Nations chooses to make its debate on the subject of colonialism at least reasonably objective and comprehensive, it would do well to forget Africa for the moment and get around to the subject of Soviet economic exploitation of the captive nations. In particular, the UN might look into the methods Moscow has used to compel Poland and their East European countries to foot the bill for a Soviet oil offensive designed to demoralize the oil industry of the United States, Western Europe and the nations of the middle East.

The Kremlin's trick is to juggle the terms of trade so that Polish and Hungarian peasants are sweated to finance an international bookkeeping subsidy that enables the Soviet crude and diesel oil exporters to undersell western oil all over the place, from Italy to the Caribbean. For anyone who cares to read the details, they have been ferreted out by Alexander Kutt, an Estonian who is chairman of the Economic Committee of the Assembly of Captive European Nations, from the most recent Yearbook of the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs. By their own statistical admission, the Communists of Moscow have been treating their colonial regions as capitalist imperialists never dared to treat the "natives" even in the palmiest days of Cecil Rhodes and Rudyard Kipling.

During 1960 and 1961, according to Mr. Kutt's summary of Soviet figures, Russian oil exports to the free world increased by more than eight million tons. (The Soviets also took over the business — or may be it should be called the burden — of supplying Fidel Castro with four million tons a year, which need not figure in this discussion.) In 1961, total Soviet crude oil exports to the nations of the free world were 13.4 million tons, a tenfold increase over the figure for 1956, the year in which the oil offensive began.

The Soviet oil sales to the free nations were legitimate market transactions at the beginning. But in 1959 the average f.o.b. prices on Soviet crude for western Europe were dropped two per cent under the prices for oil from Iraq. And in 1960, the Soviets were selling the prices for oil from Iraq. And the Iraq figure.

To underprice their oil in western markets, the Soviets took a bad loss on the exports. But the figures from the USSR Ministry of Foreign Affairs Yearbook reveal the callous methods the Russians use to negate the losses when they come to balance their international books.

When Soviet crude oil was underselling Iraq oil in Western Europe by fifteen per cent, the overall average Soviet sales price exceeded the Iraq price by twelve per cent. In 1960 the Poles were paying $23.95 a ton for Soviet crude, which exceeded the price for Iraq crude by 74 per cent.

This arbitrary manipulation of the price means that the Polish people were paying through the nose for tractor and automobile gasoline in order to enable their Moscow masters to carry a demoralizing form of economic warfare to the West. Moreover, the overpricing of all types of Soviet commodity exports to the captive nations yielded an illegitimate profit of more than $6 billion to Moscow during the seven-year period extending from 1955 to 1962.

This is economic imperialism with a vengeance. Soviet Yearbook figures for Russian exports to Poland, Hungary and other captive nations in 1962 and 1963 were not available to Mr. Kutt when he was making his analysis, but the price-cutting in Soviet oil in the free markets of the West has been a continuing trend.

The UN Afro-Asian bloc in particular has been free with its denunciations of Portuguese "colonialism" in Angola and Mozambique. The denunciations are supported by the Soviets. And, from a Havana that pays for overpriced Soviet oil with underpriced Cuban sugar, noises are heard periodically about wicked "Yanqui imperialism" in South America. The representatives of the free nations at the UN take all this hypocrisy meekly. Nobody, it seems, will defend the "image" of the West.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Space medicine has already made many contributions to earth medicine. One of its newest is a device for the study of the barely perceptible forces exerted by the pumping mechanism of the heart.

At the University of Rochester in New York, Dr. Arthur J. Moss is taking vital measurements of the heart so delicately precise that any vibration can produce a false or inaccurate reading. Even a passing truck transmits enough vibration to interfere with the sensitivity of the instruments used in this study.

The purpose of this research is to acquire even greater understanding in minute detail of the heart and the entire circulatory system. It is hoped that these undisturbed recordings will shed new light on the processes that cause premature aging.

Space scientists have helped to create a floating bed, absolutely motionless and free from external vibration. The bed rests on jet streams of compressed air. Heart tests recorded on this suspended, motionless bed reveal minute data previously unattainable by standard methods.

Plans are already being established to utilize the floating bed for the study of many other body functions.

At first glance, space science seems preposterously distant from the health and disease of man. Yet medical scientific growth flourishes on the accumulation of all available knowledge in every scientific discipline.

The carotid arteries are two of the largest and most important blood vessels in the body. Coursing with remarkable anatomical consistency through the neck, they are protected by powerful muscles. Life-sustaining oxygen is brought from the heart to all parts of the neck, head and brain by the carotid arteries.

Occasionally these blood vessels develop a strange malformation. The normal, unobstructed flow of blood to the brain sometimes becomes impaired by a "kink" somewhere along its course from the heart to the brain.

Unexplained spasms of the blood vessels, temporary strokes and temporary paralysis are now being studied for the possible relationship between their recurrences and kinking of this major blood vessel.

Dr. John R. Derick of Texas has been using a variety of techniques to visualize by X-ray studies any kinking of the carotid arteries. When supported by neurological examination, these studies prove that there is a definite relationship between disease and the kinking of the carotid artery, surgery can be successfully performed.

A modification of a surgical technique has been created by Dr. Derrick for liberating the kinked blood vessels and reestablishing the unimpeded flow of blood to the brain. By changing the position of the blood vessel and then anchoring it firmly in its new site, Dr. Derrick avoids the need for cutting or replacing the kinked portion.

This operation is being performed successfully in many hospitals in America and already many victims of certain kinds of strokes are being restored to good health.

STUDENTS AT university graduate schools are seldom required to attend the lectures. For one course at Yale, a bright young man attended only one lecture the entire semester, then amazed his rather miffed professor by rating 95 per cent on his final examination. The professor summoned him and demanded, "How could you attend only one of my lectures, and then pull down a 95 on your test?" "Frankly," replied the student, "I could have made 100 per cent, I'm sure—but your lecture confused me."

Katheryn Launtz, of Washita, Iowa, assures us, "A man may have a battered hat and his trousers may be shiny, but if his children have their noses flattened against the window pane a half hour before he is due home for supper, you can trust him with anything you have."

A pool champion stared so hard at a bald-headed man that the latter grew indignant and demanded, "Have you never seen a bald-headed man before?" "Sure, sure," said the champ. "It's just that I could have sworn I put it in a side-pocket last night."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Retail sales will command the center of the stage the rest of this month and the first half of October.

How much consumers buy, and especially what they buy, will give a strong clue to the strength of the current economic upturn.

Unexpectedly high personal spending helped moderate the last recession. Revival of purchases of durable goods, particularly big ticket ones, such as household appliances, give the present upturn a new lease on life when it seemed to be faltering a year ago.

Sales have withstood the summer lull. If they show vigor with the coming of fall, merchants and dealers can count on new dollar records the rest of the year.

Manufacturers can then plan production schedules with a more helpful eye on the chances of the longest and strongest since World War II.

Auto and appliance sales have been unusually strong for several months. At the moment car sales may be turning weak, while the makers are bringing out the new models. How these catch on should be apparent next month.

Appliance sales have close ties with home building. Construction of housing units, especially apartments, has been strong this year. Furnishing them has given a boost to appliance, furniture and similar sales.

If this continues through the fall, the industries will be content to take the usual winter season of slack construction and skimpier furnishings sales in stride.

But there is also a large replacement market for appliances and furnishings. This too has been seeing a modest boom.

Consumers have been willing to spend, and to take on monthly payments, for new appliances or for more of them. They apparently have been confident present good times were here to stay for a time.

Economists will watch this market closely. When consumers start to retrench one of their first targets is in such big ticket items.

Author Not Angry, Just Candid

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've been called an angry, middle-aged man," said Irwin Shaw, lighting up a four-bit cigar.

"But I don't feel angry. I just feel candid."

At 50, Shaw has made his first real change of profession since he started banging away at the typewriter when he was 13. He became a producer in self-defense after a long one-man war against Hollywood moguls who tampered with his screenplays. His first production is "In the French Style," which he wrote himself.

"I also produced it myself to be sure that the mice didn't nibble away at the script," he said.

"Film people get very careless of a script if the author isn't around, or if he has no authority. Everybody can be a writer once he has a script already written that he can change."

The chunky, grizzled haired author, who now lives in Switzerland, said he felt like a stranger in the big city where he first won fame in the 1930s.

"I don't like cities any more," he said. "They wear me down. The city is a vast centrifuge whirling faster than the speed of sound. Everything is supersonic."

"But I remember those days—the 1930s—with a great fondness. They were years of ferment and political hopefulness."

"Everybody was insecure—so everybody felt secure. There wasn't so much money around, so nobody cared too much about it. They didn't worry about their old age as they do now. And they seemed more generous then."

It was in 1936 that Shaw wrote his first hit play, "Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee."

In a single week during that period, he also turned out two tales for the New Yorker magazine that gained him a reputation as a master of the short story. He has written several more plays, a number of novels—notably "The Young Lions"—and 15 or 20 film scripts, most of which he doesn't care to remember.

At present he has a travel book and another collection of short stories on the fire.

Shaw is a man of tremendous gusto, and to him the meaning of life boils down to one — adventure.

Ersatz Smokes

Scientists at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute in New York are smoking weird concoctions of cabbage leaves, dandelion and eggplant. For variety, they switch to cigarettes fabricated of carrots, mint, potatoes, petunias and hollyhock.

Strains of the space age have nothing to do with the peculiar smoking habits of Roswell Park employees. They are trying to find a "smoke" which is in no way harmful to the user, and which will permit the smoker to kick the habit without remorse.

They have already achieved the latter goal. Most of the employees of the institute who have been sampling their work describe the ersatz cigarettes as "terrible" at best, and frequently much worse.

Behind the experiment is the belief of the institute's director, Dr. George E. Moore, that the tobacco leaf at some time in the future may become unacceptable. If it does, the institute hopes to be prepared with a substitute.

It has a lot of experimentation yet to do before it reaches its goal. The "most palatable" formula so far devised is a blend of petunia, cabbage and dandelion leaves sprayed with a mixture of sugar, cocoa, maple and glycerine and covered with a dressing of Jamaica rum and the herbs, tonka and deer's tongue.

Reading a list of the ingredients on the package would be enough to make most smokers swear off.

Soviet Economic Exploitation

By John Chamberlain

When and if the United Nations chooses to make its debate on the subject of colonialism at least reasonably objective and comprehensive, it would do well to forget Africa for the moment and get around to the subject of Soviet economic exploitation of the captive nations. In particular, the UN might look into the methods Moscow has used to compel Poland and their East European countries to foot the bill for a Soviet oil offensive designed to demoralize the oil industry of the United States, Western Europe and the nations of the middle East.

The Kremlin's trick is to juggle the terms of trade so that Polish and Hungarian peasants are sweated to finance an international bookkeeping subsidy that enables the Soviet crude and diesel oil exporters to undersell western oil all over the place, from Italy to the Caribbean. For anyone who cares to read the details, they have been ferreted out by Alexander Kutt, an Estonian who is chairman of the Economic Committee of the Assembly of Captive European Nations, from the most recent Yearbook of the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs. By their own statistical admission, the Communists of Moscow have been treating their colonial regions as capitalist imperialists never dared to treat the "natives" even in the palmiest days of Cecil Rhodes and Rudyard Kipling.

During 1960 and 1961, according to Mr. Kutt's summary of Soviet figures, Russian oil exports to the free world increased by more than eight million tons. (The Soviets also took over the business — or maybe it should be called the burden — of supplying Fidel Castro with four million tons a year, which need not figure in this discussion.) In 1961, total Soviet crude oil exports to the nations of the free world were 13.4 million tons, a tenfold increase over the figure for 1956, the year in which the oil offensive began.

The Soviet oil sales to the free nations were legitimate market transactions at the beginning. But in 1959 the average f.o.b. prices on Soviet crude for western Europe were dropped two per cent under the prices for oil from Iraq. And in 1960, the Soviets were selling the prices for oil from Iraq. And the Iraq figure.

To underprice their oil in western markets, the Soviets took a bad loss on the exports. But the figures from the USSR Ministry of Foreign Affairs Yearbook reveal the callous methods the Russians use to negate the losses when they come to balance their international books.

When Soviet crude oil was underselling Iraq oil in Western Europe by fifteen per cent, the overall average Soviet sales price exceeded the Iraq price by twelve per cent. In 1960 the Poles were paying $23.95 a ton for Soviet crude, which exceeded the price for Iraq crude by 74 per cent.

This arbitrary manipulation of the price means that the Polish people were paying through the nose for tractor and automobile gasoline in order to enable their Moscow masters to carry a demoralizing form of economic warfare to the West. Moreover, the overpricing of all types of Soviet commodity exports to the captive nations yielded an illegitimate profit of more than $6 billion to Moscow during the seven-year period extending from 1955 to 1962.

This is economic imperialism with a vengeance. Soviet Yearbook figures for Russian exports to Poland, Hungary and other captive nations in 1962 and 1963 were not available to Mr. Kutt when he was making his analysis, but the price-cutting in Soviet oil in the free markets of the West has been a continuing thing.

2 Men Held In 9-State Theft Series

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—E.D. Mason, agent-in-charge of the FBI in Cincinnati, announced the arrest of two Scioto County men Monday, ending a months-long investigation of an auto-truck theft ring that ranged over nine states.

They were identified as Robert Carey Rice, 31, a self-employed truck driver, and Frank Lowell Taylor, 27, a mechanic, both of near Portsmouth.

Mason and Lt. L.L. Russell, in at Jackson, said jointly that a dozen trucks and autos valued at more than $100,000 had been recovered.

Taylor, they said, is charged with transporting a stolen 1961 truck and trailer from Decatur, Ill., to Portsmouth, and Rice with theft and transportation of a 1960 truck and trailer from Miami, Fla., to Portsmouth.

Both men waived preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner and were bound to the grand jury on bonds of $250.

TODAY In History

Today is Tuesday Sept. 17, the 260th day of 1963. There are 105 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1862, Gen. Robert E. Lee's advance into Maryland was halted at the Battle of Antietam, one of the bloodiest of the Civil War. Twelve thousand Union soldiers and as many as 10,000 Confederates were either killed or wounded.

On this date: In 1730, Baron Frederick von Steuben, who helped organize and train American revolutionary armies, was born in Prussia.

In 1776, the first Spanish settler began to build the Presidio on San Francisco Bay.

In 1787, the Constitution was ratified by a constitutional convention for submission to the states.

In 1939, Russian troops invaded eastern Poland.

In 1944, the first Allied airborne army landed in Holland.

Ten years ago... Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., was on a Foreign Relations Committee assignment to survey the situation in Indo-China and other parts of Southeast Asia and Near East.

Five years ago... The Ford Motor Co. and United Auto Workers union signed a three-year labor pact following a brief strike by 94,000 auto workers at 85 Ford plants in 24 states.

One year ago... Nine more astronauts were named for training by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

165-Year-Old Church Opens $2 Million Expansion Plan

LOCKLAND, Ohio (AP)—The pioneers who founded Lockland Baptist Church back in 1798 would never recognize its successor.

The church in this Cincinnati suburb has embarked on a $2 million plus expansion program on a 160-acre tract just off Int. 75.

And as cars rush by on the freeway, workmen toil on a structure that looks like a field house for a medium-sized university with a fairly good basketball team.

The 50,000 square foot structure is scheduled to be completed by Thanksgiving and Dr. John Rawlings, pastor of the church since 1951, says it will serve as home for his congregation until the church itself is finished.

About 3,000 of the church's 7,000 members (who include children) will be able to find seats in it for services. It will also include 16 classrooms seating a total of 1,600 persons and a soundproof babies room. The glassed-in room for babies also can be used as a balcony to the auditorium if needed.

After the church is finished —

Honeymoon Fund Stolen at Church

MENTOR, Ohio (AP)—A New England honeymoon planned by Joseph Yuse and his bride is off. Yuse said today the money he had counted on for the honeymoon was taken from a box at St. Mary's Church during a reception at the church Saturday.

Yuse, 24, of Eastlake, told police there was from $1,200 to $1,500 in the box where gifts of money for the young couple had been placed.

Mentor Police Chief Frank Hathy appealed to the thief to return the money. He said if the thief "knew how bad these kids are hurt," he would want to return the money.

Sally Rand Says World's Fair Next Year To Need Sally Rand

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP)—What next year's New York World's Fair needs is a Sally Rand. So says Sally Rand, an expert on fairs, fans and other matters.

Chicago's Century of Progress in 1933 is remembered more for Sally than any of its other attractions. Something similar should be done for New York in 1964, she said, admitting that it probably won't be. Her ideas run counter to those of the fair chairman, Robert Moses, veteran city planner.

"Mr. Moses is very set in his ways," observed Sally. "He is determined, in his inimitable wisdom, that there will be no Midway at the fair."

Slain Girl's Boy Friend in School

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Michael Wehrung, who was the boy friend of slain Patricia Ann Rebholz, 15, has been placed in a private school outside Cincinnati.

Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz did not disclose the name of the school. He said it was selected by the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wehrung, and that they are paying the costs.

Judge Schwartz urged that Michael be allowed "to pursue his career at this school without publicity and exposure of his name and live his life like any other boy."

Patricia Ann was found beaten to death in a yard in suburban Greenhills last Aug. 8. She was killed after she left an American Legion hall teen-age dance to go to Michael's home.

Election Day Birth Date Rule Explained

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Even if your 21st birthday doesn't come until election day, it's possible to vote in the Nov. 5 general election, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said today.

Brown estimates that the number of Ohio young people who will be 21 on or before Nov. 5 could run as high as 70,000. But, he added, if they live in places requiring voter registration, they must register beforehand.

The registration deadline is Sept. 25 except in a few communities which close registration earlier.

Woman Pleads Innocent In Van Wert Slaying

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Susan Jane Creech, 21, pleaded innocent to a charge of second-degree murder at her arraignment Monday and was bound over to the Van Wert County grand jury.

Prosecutor Kenneth Koch said Mrs. Creech, the mother of a 2-year-old child, admitted shooting Robert Grimes, 23, last Saturday shortly after they moved here from Fort Wayne, Ind.

2 Men Held In 9-State Theft Series

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—E.D. Mason, agent-in-charge of the FBI in Cincinnati, announced the arrest of two Scioto County men Monday, ending a month-long investigation of an auto-truck theft ring that ranged over nine states.

They were identified as Robert Carey Rice, 31, a self-employed truck driver, and Frank Lowell Taylor, 27, a mechanic, both of near Portsmouth.

Mason and Lt. L.L. Russell, in at Jackson, said jointly that a dozen trucks and autos valued at more than $100,000 had been recovered.

Taylor, they said, is charged with transporting a stolen 1961 truck and trailer from Decatur, Ill., to Portsmouth, and Rice with theft and transportation of a 1960 truck and trailer from Miami, Fla., to Portsmouth.

Both men waived preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner and were bound to the grand jury on bonds of $250.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

Tit for Tat!

DEAR ABBY: I know what THINNER AND Madder is going through. I lost 45 pounds in the last six months and I feel better and look younger and prettier for it. Everyone I know tells me how great I look—except one person. She insists that I don't look like myself, and that she preferred the old fat me! Incidentally, her husband is one of those who complimented me. Well, this woman who preferred the old fat me recently got contact lenses, so when I saw her, I told her she didn't look like herself and that I preferred the "old bespectacled her!" She got the message and now she isn't speaking to me any more. I don't feel that I've lost a friend—I just showed her up for the jealous cat she was.

THIN AND HAPPY

DEAR THIN AND HAPPY: If you wanted the last laugh, you you got it, but people who fight fire with fire eventually make ashes of themselves.

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 16 years old and have been wanting a private telephone in my bedroom ever since I was 12. My mother keeps using the excuse that she doesn't have the money. Well my boy friend told me that he would put the telephone in my room as a gift, and that he would also pay my telephone bill every month. Now my mother says that I still can't have it, but she won't give me a reason. Do you think that's fair? What can I do about it?

WANTS A PHONE

DEAR WANTS: There is more than a telephone involved here. Tell your boy friend you appreciate his generosity, but you aren't allowed to accept such costly gifts.

DEAR ABBY: What is the right thing to do in this situation? We had planned for over a month to put supper together at a friend's house on a certain evening. That evening arrives, you are ready to go—the food you are taking is ready, and the friends expect you in half an hour. Then your husband's mother and father walk in unexpectedly with an aunt and uncle. They stay and stay. Finally you sneak away from them for a minute and phone your friend and say, "We can't come and I'll tell you why later, goodbye."

The next day I phoned my friend and explained why we couldn't come. She said that was no excuse and she was PEEVED like I've never known her to be. Did she have a right to be peeved?

DEAR STUCK: YES! You should have greeted your unexpected callers with the regret that they had not telephoned first as you were on your way out to a planned get-together, then taken your food (the hostess was no doubt counting on it) and departed!

DEAR STUCK: YES! You should have greeted your unexpected callers with the regret that they had not telephoned first as you were on your way out to a planned get-together, then taken your food (the hostess was no doubt counting on it) and departed!

Building Copy Of Wright Plane Proves Difficult

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Maj. Gen. Marvin C. Demler says it's harder to build the Wright plane today than it was in 1903.

Demler, president of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, is director of a project to build an authentic full-scale copy of the wood-and-cloth biplane in which Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first powered flights by man Dec. 17, 1903.

"The project is demanding every talent of our space and jet age experts," Demler said.

"Stepping back 60 years to build the plane exactly as it was constructed then, with the same materials, is a real challenging venture," he said.

The original Wright flyer hangs in the Smithsonian Institution. The finished product is to be presented to the Kill Devil Hill Wright Memorial Museum, Kitty Hawk, N.C.

Tit for Tat!

DEAR ABBY: I know what THINNER AND Madder is going through. I lost 45 pounds in the last six months and I feel better and look younger and prettier for it. Everyone I know tells me how great I look—except one person. She insists that I don't look like myself, and that she preferred the old fat me! Incidentally, her husband is one of those who complimented me. Well, this woman who preferred the old fat me recently got contact lenses, so when I saw her, I told her she didn't look like herself and that I preferred the "old bespectacled her!" She got the message and now she isn't speaking to me any more. I don't feel that I've lost a friend—I just showed her up for the jealous cat she was.

THIN AND HAPPY
DEAR THIN AND HAPPY: If you wanted the last laugh, you got it, but people who fight fire with fire eventually make ashes of themselves.

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 16 years old and have been wanting a private telephone in my bedroom ever since I was 12. My mother keeps using the excuse that she doesn't have the money. Well my boy friend told me that he would put the telephone in my room as a gift, and that he would also pay my telephone bill every month. Now my mother says that I still can't have it, but she won't give me a reason. Do you think that's fair? What can I do about it?

WANTS A PHONE
DEAR WANTS: There is more than a telephone involved here. Tell your boy friend you appreciate his generosity, but you aren't allowed to accept such costly gifts.

DEAR ABBY: What is the right thing to do in this situation? We had planned for over a month to put supper together at a friend's house on a certain evening. That evening arrives, you are ready to go—the food you are taking is ready, and the friends expect you in half an hour. Then your husband's mother and father walk in unexpectedly with an aunt and uncle. They stay and stay. Finally you sneak away from them for a minute and phone your friend and say, "We can't come and I'll tell you why later, goodbye."

The next day I phoned my friend and explained why we couldn't come. She said that was no excuse and she was PEEVED like I've never known her to be. Did she have a right to be peeved?

STUCK
DEAR STUCK: YES! You should have greeted your unexpected callers with the regret that they had not telephoned first as you were on your way out to a planned get-together, then taken your food (the hostess was no doubt counting on it) and departed!

Building Copy Of Wright Plane Proves Difficult

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Maj. Gen. Marvin C. Demler says it's harder to build the Wright plane today than it was in 1903.

Demler, president of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, is director of a project to build an authentic full-scale copy of the wood-and-cloth biplane in which Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first powered flights by man Dec. 17, 1903.

"The project is demanding every talent of our space and jet age experts," Demler said.

"Stepping back 60 years to build the plane exactly as it was constructed then, with the same materials, is a real challenging venture," he said.

The original Wright flyer hangs in the Smithsonian Institution. The finished product is to be presented to the Kill Devil Hill Wright Memorial Museum, Kitty Hawk, N.C.

Bob Shave Red-Hot as He Defends Ohio Open Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bob Shave Jr. of Willoughby must like it on the Ohio Open golf throne. The 27-year-old defending champion fired an eight-birdie barrage Monday in the opening round of the 41st annual classic to serve notice to the field of 140 that he intends to rule again.

Rick Spires, Circleville, and Tom Cassidy, Pickaway Country Club pro, carded scores of 75 and 73 respectively, in the Ohio Open Golf tournament at Columbus yesterday.

Using the unorthodox mallet-like putter, which he grasps with hands 15 inches apart, he was a terror on the greens. He sank a 15-foot putt on the first hole, chipped from 20 feet off the putting surface on the fourth, dropped 15-footers on the fifth and sixth and a puny 3-footer on the eighth, all for birdies to hit the turn four under. He three-putted the third hole.

On the back nine he ran down an 8-footer on the 10th, a 15-footer on 13 and a 4-footer on 16 for birdies, along with a 12-footer for a par on the closing hole after his second had skipped over the green. All that gave him a 66, six under par, for the initial round over Walnut Hills Country Club's 6,740-yard, par 72 layout. It also gave him a two-shot lead over Herman Keiser, 48, of Barborton, 1946 Masters champion and winner of the State Open in 1949 and 1951, who had 4 birdies and 16 pars in his torrid round.

Only five players were able to better par in the opening round of the 72-hole medal play chase, despite the fact Walnut Hills is not considered a too rugged layout. Most of the field is made up of teaching professionals who get little chance to play regularly—so the appearance of Shave and Keiser, a pair of touring professionals, was no great surprise.

Bob Carson, Columbus amateur observing his 22nd birthday, carved out a 70 for third place. Jack Kidwell, operator of a Columbus nine-hole course, scored a 71 to tie with Tom Weiskopf, 20-year-old Bedford youth who won the Western Amateur a few weeks ago and has twice captured the state Public Links crown.

A half-dozen deadlocked at 72. After today's play the field will be cut to the 60 low professionals and 12 low amateurs for Wednesday's 36-hole finish. The winner gets $650 of the $4,000 pot, with the 20th professional receiving $45. The top amateur gets $200 in merchandise from a $595 payoff, and the seniors—who decide their title on the first 36 holes—split up $400 with the victor taking $15.

Jug Field Selection Due; Matastar, Danish Kid Shine

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The Delaware Jug will be decided starting field for Thursday's Lit with entries today.

Meet the Tigers

RICH SAMUEL

Junior candidates for the Circleville High School football team include Jack Martin and Rich Samuel. Martin is a center. Weighing 165 pounds, he is 6-feet tall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Martin, 352 Cedar Heights Rd. He was a member of last year's reserve basketball team, belongs to the Stooze Club and the Luther League. He has received scholarship awards in algebra and geometry. Samuel, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Samuel, 890 N. Court St. is a tackle. Weighing 172 pounds he is 5-feet, 6-inches tall.

A crowd of more than 35,000 is expected to witness the second leg of pacing's triple crown for 3-year-olds at the Delaware County Fair grounds.

Officials were predicting a probable field of 11 in quest of a purse likely to reach $70,000.

Overtrick, son of Solicitor, is the early favorite despite two recent defeats.

Meadow Skipper and Country Don, who turned back Overtrick in his last two starts, are in the speed-packed field.

The favorite's role goes to Overtrick, owned by Mrs. Leonard Buck of Far Hills, N.J., on the basis of his victory in the Geers Stake at DuQuoin, Ill., and by an under two minutes showing at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., and at Philadelphia.

Monday's Grand Circuit harness racing program was featured by a record for Matastar, the world's fastest trotting stallion.

The 5-year-old son of Star's Pride, competing in a time trial, knocked more than a second off a record that was set 26 years ago and thus became the fastest trotter ever on a half-mile oval.

Matastar, owned by E. Roland Harriman and Elbridge T. Gerry of Goshen, N.Y., sped the distance in 1:58 3-5. The time compared to the 1:59 4-5 mark set by Greyhound in 1937 at Goshen.

Officially, Matastar was programmed to beat the Delaware track record of 2:00 3-5 set by Cabeb two years ago as a 3-year-old. Driven by his trainer, Harry Pownall Sr., Matastar stepped the quarter in 29 1-5, the half mile in 58 1-5 and the three-quarters in 1:28 1-5.

Two world marks also tumbled as Danish Kid, a 3-year-old gelding, scooted home in the first heat of the early closer conditioned trot in 2:02 2-5.

Owned by Wayne Galvin of Wilmington, Ohio, and driven by Dick Buxton, Danish Kid's time eclipsed the record for 3-year-old trotting geldings set at Yonkers, N.Y., in 1958 by Shell Bomb.

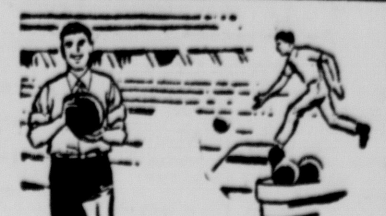

He added the two-heat world championship in the second heat by an easy 2:04 4-5 victory. The two combined for 4:07 1-5, which is 2 3-5 seconds better than the old mark for age, gelding sex.

Kentucky Belle, owned by the Castleton Farm in Lexington, Ky., won a straight heat decision in the 3-year-old filly state trot but had to scamper to tie a world mark in the second canto.

Driven by Ralph Baldwin, Kentucky Belle was clocked in 2:02, same time that Impish set here in 1961.

Timely Beauty won a split heat victory from Tarport Rose in the 3-year-old pacing divisions of the filly stakes. Timely Beauty had the best

Jug Field Selection Due; Matastar, Danish Kid Shine

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The Delaware Jug will be decided starting field for Thursday's Little Brown Jug will be decided with entries today.

Meet the Tigers

RICH SAMUEL

Junior candidates for the Circleville High School football team include Jack Martin and Rich Samuel. Martin is a center. Weighing 165 pounds, he is 6-feet tall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Martin, 352 Cedar Heights Rd. He was a member of last year's reserve basketball team, belongs to the Stange Club and the Luther League. He has received scholarship awards in algebra and geometry. Samuel, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Samuel, 890 N. Court St. is a tackle. Weighing 172 pounds he is 5-feet, 6-inches tall.

A crowd of more than 35,000 is expected to witness the second leg of the triple crown for 3-year-olds at the Delaware County Fair grounds.

Officials were predicting a probable field of 11 in quest of a purse likely to reach $70,000.

Overtrick, son of Solicitor, is the early favorite despite two recent defeats.

Meadow Skipper and Country Don, who turned back Overtrick in his last two starts, are in the speed-packed field.

The favorite's role goes to Overtrick, owned by Mrs. Leonard Buck of Far Hills, N.J., on the basis of his victory in the Geers Stake at DuQuoin, Ill., and by an under two minutes showing at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., and at Philadelphia.

Monday's Grand Circuit harness racing program was featured by a record for Matastar, the world's fastest trotting stallion.

The 5-year-old son of Star's Pride, competing in a time trial, knocked more than a second off a record that was set 26 years ago and thus became the fastest trotter ever on a half-mile oval.

Matastar, owned by E. Roland Harriman and Elbridge T. Gerry of Goshen, N.Y., sped the distance in 1:58 3-5. The time compared to the 1:59 3-4 mark set by Greyhound in 1937 at Goshen.

Officially, Matastar was programmed to beat the Delaware track record of 2:00 3-5 set by Cabeh two years ago as a 3-year-old. Driven by his trainer, Harry Pownall Sr., Matastar stepped the quarter in 29 1-5, the half mile in 58 1-5 and the three-quarters in 1:28 1-5.

Leo Says Cards Just Gotta Fold And They Do

St. Louis Drops First Game of Vital Series With Leading Dodgers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"They've just got to fold," said Leo Durocher, "they've been so hot, they've just got to."

Is the outspoken Los Angeles coach right, or can the St. Louis Cardinals bounce back from a 3-1 defeat by the National League leading Dodgers Monday night in the opener of the three-game showdown that may decide the pennant winner?

That was the question today as the Cardinals made ready for round No. 2—against Dodger ace Sandy Koufax, 23-5. Starting for St. Louis will be Curt Simmons, 15-7.

Leo made his comment before the game, with the Cardinals heading into the series at home only one game back of the Dodgers after rolling to 10 consecutive victories and 19 in 20 games.

The tense game moved into the ninth tied 1-1 before the Dodgers put together a double by Ron Fairly, a key single by Willie Davis and an error for the two runs that gave them the victory and a two-game lead over the Cardinals.

Now, even if the Cardinals take the two remaining games the Dodgers will be in first place.

"I am not the least bit pessimistic," said St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane. "We've got two more with 'em. This pennant race is a long way from being over yet."

While they were playing the big one at St. Louis, two other games were played in the National League.

Bob Veale pitched a two-hitter and Bill Mazeroski drove in the game's only run with a single in the last of the ninth as Pittsburgh edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0.

Juan Marichal won his 23rd game with a six-hitter and Orlando Cepeda hit a decisive homer to give San Francisco a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee.

The only American League game—Chicago at Washington—was rained out.

The Dodgers scored first against the Cardinals, getting to Ernie Broglio for a run in the sixth on a double by Maury Wills, his steal of third and a single by Tommy Davis.

Stan Musial's homer—one of only three hits off Dodger starter Johnny Podres—tied it in the seventh.

In the eighth, with Broglio tiring, the Cardinal manager sent in a pinch hitter, then called on Bobby Shantz to hold the Dodgers in the ninth.

Ron Fairly lashed Shantz' first pitch for a double. Then Davis, who was hitting only .232 going into the game but had already collected two hits and stolen two bases, lined a single to right field. Fairly slid across the plate with the lead run on a close play.

A throwing error by Julian Javier let in the other run.

Westfall Boosters Name Committees

Directors of the Westfall Booster Club appointed committees for 1963-64 during a recent meeting.

Franklin Bailey, Bob Conway and Paul Thompson, are on the projects and program committee. Ruth Renick, Ruth Neff and Estia Tipton are members of the publicity committee; Edwin Bauhan, Gerald Reynolds and Dale Smith are members of the auditing committee.

Incorporation of the Westfall Boosters was adopted by vote. Gerald Reynolds, Delbert Remy and Smith were appointed to select a lawyer and carry out the necessary procedure.

A general membership meeting will be held 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Monroe School.

The treasurer's report of the Pickaway County Fair Booth and the August card party indicated substantial profits were made from each.

Braves Plan Big Tribute For Spahn

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Despite persistent rumors that the Braves are headed for Atlanta in 1964, Milwaukee's largest turnout of the season is expected tonight to pay tribute to wonderful Warren Spahn.

About 40,000 fans, civic leaders and baseball officials will join in tendering the 42-year-old southpaw one of his greatest honors on "Warren Spahn Night."

Hall of Famers Carl Hubbell, Lefty Grove and Gabby Hartnett will participate in the pre-game festivities before Spahn makes a bid for his 21st victory of the sea-

MUSCLE TO MISS WITH—The guy who seldom strikes out, Nellie Fox (left) and the fellow who strikes out frequently, Dave Nicholson, put on a muscle act here. Fox has whiffed only 15 times this season and Nicholson now stands at 146, which breaks Harmon Killebrew's mark of 142 set over a 162-game schedule last year. Nicholson, however, has hit 18 homers for the Sox in 107 games he played.

Browns '11' Set To Joust Dallas

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I know Dallas will be high, and we must fight that tendency to let down after winning," says Cleveland Browns Coach Blanton Collier.

In reviewing the films of the Browns' 37-14 triumph over Washington Sunday, Collier said the pictures showed the offensive line did a good job.

"There were some breakdowns, but the line did some real fine things, too," he said. "On that 80-yard run off the flip, Jim Brown had four good blocks to get started."

"It was almost like the play on paper. Rich Kreidling also threw a good block downfield."

son and No. 348 of his career in a meeting with the San Francisco Giants.

The usual shower of gifts will be missing. Instead, Spahn's name will be perpetuated by establishment of the Warren Spahn Scholarship Foundation. The fund will be financed by the sale of "Spahn" buttons at 25 cents each and private gifts.

The button sale is expected to realize more than $50,000. Private gifts include a personal contribution of $500 by Spahn himself.

The Braves' ace will be given a portrait, scrolls from each of the nine other National League clubs and a gift from his teammates. His wife will receive a jewel box and his son, Greg, 14, will be given a Western saddle.

Spahn, who earns $80,000 a year from the Braves and has a sprawling ranch in Hartshorne, Okla., agreed to the "night" only after assurances that the proceeds would go to set up the scholarship fund.

Eagles Star Very Sorry For Boner

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A sorry Don Burroughs, the Philadelphia Eagles' defensive back, will not be present at Sunday's National Football League game here against the St. Louis Cardinals because of a disciplinary order from NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle not only barred Burroughs from the game as the result of the player's strenuous protests Sunday against a decision in the Eagles-Pittsburgh Steelers' 21-21 tie game, he told Burroughs to keep away from Franklin Field.

The one-game suspension is without pay.

The action, Rozelle said, is because Burroughs "ran after a game official (field judge Dan Tahan) who was going to his dressing quarters on the opposite side of the field from the Eagles' locker room. Burroughs grabbed or shoved the official. In the confusion a second official (referee Bill Downes) was struck across the face, apparently inadvertently by Burroughs before the player ran to his dressing room."

Burroughs apologized to the officials. "I was wrong—I did not mean to go as far as I did in expressing my feelings at the officials' call," he said.

Wilmington Mare Cops Lebanon Feature Pace

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Edgewood Miss, rated only 7-1, charged up fast in the backstretch and won the featured pace at Lebanon Raceway Monday night in 2:07 2-5. The 6-year-old mare, owned by Evan Hickey of Wilmington, paid $18.

Memphis State University just won't give up. The Tigers have lost 17 football games played with Mississippi.

Record $795,155,000 Loaned By Ohio FHA in Fiscal '63

Loans made and insured by the Farmers Home Administration in Ohio during the 1963 fiscal year totaled $6,884,000, a record high according to Wade E. Jeffers, local county supervisor.

A total of 2,451 farmers and rural residents received loan assistance during the year or continued to use credit obtained in prior years. In addition during 1963 one association serving an estimated 1,000 rural people used credit supplied by the agency.

Repayments of principal and interest on loans outstanding totaled $3,906,000 compared to $3,300,000, the year before. Approximately 220 borrowers repaid their loans in full during the period.

Two new credit services were offered during the year. Nationwide more than $1,600,000 was advanced to farmers and rural residents for the construction of such recreation facilities as picnic and camping areas, swimming pools, fishing ponds, marinas, golf courses, vacation cottages and tennis courts. These funds developed additional sources of income in rural areas, provided outdoor recreation facilities for the expanding population and helped shift the use of land from the production of crops to the production of needed facilities.

Throughout the nation $3,400,000 was used to provide housing adapted to the needs of senior citizens in rural areas. The credit advanced for this purpose helped elderly farmers and rural residents live comfortably in their home communities near friends and relatives, increased the attractiveness of rural communities and provided employment for local workmen.

"The impact of the agency has been dramatically increased by combining the efforts of the Farmers Home Administration with those of other agencies and institutions through the rural areas development program," Wade E. Jeffers, county supervisor, said. Jeffers noted that despite the substantial increase in the volume of business the size of the agency's staff remains essentially the same. He said that the major portion of the agency's funds now come from private sources on an insured basis, or from collections on outstanding debts.

"Farmers Home Administration programs have an impact on urban as well as rural families. A borrower's survey shows their farm and home operating expenses and capital expenditures average between $10,000 and $12,000 annually. These dollars for the most part are used to buy goods and services processed or produced in the towns and cities. The average assets of borrowers surveyed was $29,000. These assets, built with supervised credit, strengthen the tax base that supports community facilities and reduces the tax burden on nonfarmers," the county supervisor said. Of the $6,884,000 loaned and insured by the Farmers Home Administration in fiscal 1963 approximately $2,500,000 went to 650 farmers to pay for equipment, feed, seed, livestock, fertilizer, for other farm and home operating needs, to refinance chattel debts, carry out forestry purposes and develop income-producing recreational enterprises.

Farm ownership loans totaling $2,620,000 were used by 141 farmers to enlarge, develop, and buy farms not larger than family size, and to refinance debts, carry out forestry purposes and develop income-producing recreational enterprises. Private lenders advanced $2,231,000 of these funds through the Farmers Home Administration insured loan program.

Water development and soil conservation loans totaled $321,000, all of which was provided on an insured basis. These funds went to a nonprofit association for the development of a rural community water system.

Rural housing loans totaling $1,526,000 were made to 157 farmers and rural residents. Bulk of this total was for construction and repair of houses and essential farm buildings.

All Farmers Home Administration loans are accompanied by technical advice or farm and financial management. Loans are made only to applicants who are unable to obtain needed credit from conventional lenders.

Jeffers is in the County Agent's office, 159½ E. Main St., Circleville, from 10 a. m. to noon every Tuesday.

Parole Board Aide Returns to Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Frank Battisti was back at her desk in the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission today, ending a prolonged honeymoon.

She and U. S. District Court Judge Frank Battisti of Youngstown, were wed Aug. 10, and her prolonged absence brought from Gov. James A. Rhodes' office word to return by this date or face possible automatic resignation.

Mrs. Battisti, the former Gloria Karpinski, was appointed to her $12,000-a-year job by former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

John McElroy, assistant to Rhodes, indicated that with her return the matter is closed.

More Ex-Deputies Given Jail Terms

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Two more Stark County sheriff's deputies were sent to jail Monday for their part in a series of burglaries and thefts committed while they were on duty.

Common Pleas Court Judge John Rossetti sentenced Samuel C. Wright, 60, of East Sparta to 90 days in jail. Alphonso A. Rossetti, 32, of Canton (not related to the judge) was sentenced to jail for 30 days.

Both had pleaded guilty to petty larceny charges. Eight deputies have been sentenced to prison or jail terms as a result of grand jury indictments returned last February. Two others are awaiting trial.

Conant Urges Free College To Pupils Entering Teaching

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard and an influential commentator on U. S. education, proposes in a new book that America's brightest high school graduates be given a free college education if they become teachers in the public schools.

Conant said each state should provide a program of all-expense loans for high school graduates who plan to become teachers and who are in the top 30 per cent of their graduating class.

The loans, Conant said, should be cancelled after four or five years of teaching in the public schools of that state. He did not specify terms of repayment for those who went into another field or left the state.

This was one of the 27 proposals on the recruitment, preparation and certification of teachers outlined by Conant in his latest book, "The Education of American Teachers" (McGraw-Hill, 275 pp., $5).

The book follows a two-year study that took Conant and his staff to 77 campuses in 22 states. Conant also has written best-selling books on the American high school and junior high school, and was chairman of a national conference which produced a controversial booklet on the teaching of reading.

Unlike his earlier reports on education, which were directed to local school boards and parents, this one is addressed to the 1,150 colleges and universities which now prepare teachers.

The average reader consequently may find it tough slogging through the long and detailed discussions of state requirements for teacher certification, and the never-ending war between academic professors and the professors of education.

But Conant comes through loud and clear in the concluding chapter which sums up his proposals, some of which seem certain to stir debate among those charged with training the nation's future teachers.

He suggests, for example, that the present complex and unwieldy steps towards teacher certification should be reduced to three requirements:

1. A baccalaureate degree from a legitimate college or university.
2. Evidence of participation in a state-approved practice teaching program.
3. A certificate from the college

Youngstown Freedom Rally To Feature King

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Rev. A. D. King is to speak at a freedom rally here tonight, substituting for his brother, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a top Negro leader who remained in Birmingham, Ala., during the racial unrest in that city.

But Dr. King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership conference, and A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, are scheduled to address a rally in Cleveland's Cory's Methodist Church Wednesday night.

or university attesting that the institution considers the recipient adequately prepared to teach in a designated field or grade level.

This would permit the institutions to devise their own programs of teacher education, free from state requirements of a specified number of courses in such subjects as methods of teaching, child psychology, child growth and development, history of education, etc.

Ohio Railroad Fireman Hailed For Heroism

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The railroad fireman who snatched a baby girl from the path of his freight train July 31 was honored by his union Monday.

Ralph M. LaRue, 44, of New Rome, Ohio, received the July safety award, $250 and a plaque from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. The award was made at a luncheon in LaRue's honor.

One-year-old Shirley Ward of Greenville was spotted by LaRue when his Pennsylvania Railroad freight was about 1,000 feet from her and traveling 40 to 45 miles per hour through Greenville. The fireman shouted to engineer W. E. Hanning to apply the brakes and then raced to the front of the locomotive.

The train was traveling too fast to be stopped short of the baby, but LaRue, hanging from the front of the locomotive shoved her from the track to safety.

LaRue, the grandfather of two children, is an 18-year veteran with the Pennsylvania Railroad. He has also been nominated for a Carnegie Award for heroism.

Woman Faces Grand Jury In Slaying of Husband

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Helen Nathanson, 49, faces grand jury action on a charge of first-degree murder and shooting to kill in the death of her husband and wound of a state highway patrolman. She pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity at arraignment Monday before Judge Louis Schwartz.

Mel Nathanson, 52, was shot in the head and killed Sept. 7 outside their Summerside home and patrolman Robert Dolder, 26, was shot in the leg as he sought to disarm her, sheriff's deputies said.

Grand Jury Indicts Man in Columbus Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County Grand Jury has indicted Amil A. Dinsio, 27, of Youngstown on two counts in connection with the Sept. 6 burglary of a Columbus supermarket. The grand jury Monday charged Dinsio, who also faces criminal indictments in Mahoning County and West Virginia, with burglary and breaking into a safe deposit box. He is held on $100,000 bond.

Conant does not recommend that these courses be abolished, only that each institution be free to chart its own path.

"The Education of American Teachers" may also be criticized because Conant does not deal with some of the major problems of teacher education today. These would include the special preparation needed by teachers in big city slums, guidance counselors, curriculum specialists, teachers of the mentally retarded and physically handicapped, and teachers in vocational education.

Other Conant proposals include: —There should be a large jump in salary when a teacher moves out of probationary status.

—Salary increases should be based on formal work toward an advanced degree, not on casual courses taken in summer school, or in off-duty hours.

School boards or the state should provide leaves of absence with salary for a full-time semester residence at a university to enable teachers to study toward a Master's Degree.

—If small colleges cannot afford to hire three or four professors devoting their time to elementary education, they should cease attempting to prepare teachers for the elementary schools.

—During the probationary period, local school boards should take specific steps to provide new teachers with every possible help, including limited teaching responsibility, "shifting to more experienced teachers those pupils who create problems beyond the ability of the novice to handle effectively," and specialized instruction concerning the community, the neighborhood, and the students he is likely to encounter.

Dr. Conant places heavy stress on the practice teaching program for future teachers. He proposes that only the best teacher be appointed to supervise the teacher candidate, and that "clinical professors" from the colleges and universities be appointed to oversee the program.

He also urges that state authorities develop regulations to insure that a teacher will be assigned only those duties for which he is specifically prepared, and that when a teacher has been certified by one state, his certificate should be accepted as valid in any other state.

Dr. Conant also urges that preparation for a teaching career begin in high school. His proposed high school program for a prospective teacher:

Four years of English, 4 years of one foreign language, at least 3 but preferably 4 years of mathematics, 3 years of natural science, 3 years of history and social studies, and 2 years of art and music.

Outright Federal Control Over Milk Market 'Unlikely'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's new farm marketing administrator says outright government control over milk production and marketing is unlikely to be established.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture George L. Mehren, in his first major speech since taking office a few weeks ago, expressed this view at a meeting of federal milk market administrators at Colorado Springs, Colo., Monday.

"It seems likely," he said, "that the role of government in the milk industry will be somewhere between the extreme and non-existent concept of laissez faire and the equally and non-existent concept of outright government control."

Last year, the Kennedy administration recommended legislation which would have given the Agriculture Department power and authority to control milk sales by individual dairymen for the purpose of halting over-production and stabilizing prices.

The statement by Mehren, who has marketing activities of the department under his supervision, was regarded as being of considerable significance. It was interrupted by some farm groups and leaders as indicating the administration no longer is thinking in terms of rigid milk controls.

Mehren's views on milk could easily influence administration thinking and planning regarding controls on other farm products. The government now exercises a degree of control under more than 80 federal milk marketing orders designed to stabilize prices and supplies of fluid milk. Under these orders, the government sets minimum prices which handlers must pay dairymen, but it does not control their production.

Woman Ends Long Journey On Fire Truck

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Where's the fire?" will always ring a bell for Mrs. Grace Dalfsen, 49, who has just ridden most of the way across the nation in a fire truck.

Mrs. Van Dalfsen, a grandmother, who made the trip to match a journey made by her great-grandmother, who traveled from Ohio to California in an oxcart 100 years ago.

Where do you find an oxcart today? You don't, especially on the superhighways. So Mrs. Van Dalfsen took the next best offer.

Her brother, Douglas Williams, is chief of the Las Vegas, Nev., fire department. He told her the department was buying a new 10-foot aerial ladder truck from the Seagrave Corp. in Columbus, Ohio, and suggested she ride the fire wagon.

She was not, however, allowed to drive.

Mrs. Van Dalfsen and the two drivers brought the truck to Los Angeles to pickup its ladders. They plan to take it to Las Vegas Wednesday.

Convicts Sent for Cows, But Just Keep on Going

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Two inmates of the Grafton State Prison Farm were sent to bring cattle in from pasture for milking Monday. Gary Lee, 19, of Columbiana County and 21-year-old Eugene Stout of Carroll County just kept on going and escaped.

Lee was sentenced March 8 for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. Stout was sentenced in 1961 for robbery.

Convict Completes 50 Years in Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lorenzo Roach, now 83 and described as senile and bed-ridden, reached the 50th year milestone in his life sentence for murder at Ohio Penitentiary Monday.

Roach, convicted of shooting his sister-in-law, was committed from Stark County in 1913. Ten of his 50 years were spent at Roseville and eight at the Junction City branch prison.

The longest term ever served as a prisoner of the state was that of "Pappy" Lyons, who died in 1960 after serving 60 years.

Record $795,155,000 Loaned By Ohio FHA in Fiscal '63

Loans made and insured by the Farmers Home Administration in Ohio during the 1963 fiscal year totaled $6,884,000, a record high according to Wade E. Jeffers, local county supervisor.

A total of 2,451 farmers and rural residents received loan assistance during the year or continued to use credit obtained in prior years. In addition during 1963 one association serving an estimated 1,000 rural people used credit supplied by the agency.

Repayments of principal and interest on loans outstanding totaled $3,906,000 compared to $3,300,000, the year before. Approximately 220 borrowers repaid their loans in full during the period.

Two new credit services were offered during the year. Nationwide more than $1,600,000 was advanced to farmers and rural residents for the construction of such recreation facilities as picnic and camping areas, swimming pools, fishing ponds, marinas, golf courses, vacation cottages and tennis courts. These funds developed additional sources of income in rural areas, provided outdoor recreation facilities for the expanding population and helped shift the use of land from the production of crops to the production of needed facilities.

Throughout the nation $3,400,000 was used to provide housing adapted to the needs of senior citizens in rural areas. The credit advanced for this purpose helped elderly farmers and rural residents live comfortably in their home communities near friends and relatives, increased the attractiveness of rural communities and provided employment for local workmen.

"The impact of the agency has been dramatically increased by combining the efforts of the Farmers Home Administration with those of other agencies and institutions through the rural areas development program," Wade E. Jeffers, county supervisor, said. Jeffers noted that despite the substantial increase in the volume of business the size of the agency's staff remains essentially the same. He said that the major portion of the agency's funds now come from private sources on an insured basis, or from collections on outstanding debts.

"Farmers Home Administration programs have an impact on urban as well as rural families. A borrower's survey shows their farm and home operating expenses and capital expenditures average between $10,000 and $12,000 annually. These dollars for the most part are used to buy goods and services processed or produced in the towns and cities. The average assets of borrowers surveyed was $29,000. These assets, built with supervised credit, strengthen the tax base that supports community facilities and reduces the tax burden on nonfarmers," the county supervisor said.

Of the $6,884,000 loaned and insured by the Farmers Home Administration in fiscal 1963 approximately $2,500,000 went to 650 farmers to pay for equipment, feed, seed, livestock, fertilizer, for other farm and home operating needs, to refinance chattel debts, carry out forestry purposes and develop income-producing recreational enterprises.

Farm ownership loans totaling $2,620,000 were used by 141 farmers to enlarge, develop, and buy farms not larger than family size, and to refinance debts, carry out forestry purposes and develop income-producing recreational enterprises. Private lenders advanced $2,231,000 of these funds through the Farmers Home Administration insured loan program.

Water development and soil conservation loans totaling $321,000, all of which was provided on an insured basis. These funds went to a nonprofit association for the development of a rural community water system.

Rural housing loans totaling $1,526,000 were made to 157 farmers and rural residents. Bulk of this total was for construction and repair of houses and essential farm buildings.

All Farmers Home Administration loans are accompanied by technical advice or farm and financial management. Loans are made only to applicants who are unable to obtain needed credit from conventional lenders.

Jeffers is in the County Agent's office, 159½ E. Main St., Circleville, from 10 a. m. to noon every Tuesday.

Parole Board Aide Returns to Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Frank Battisti was back at her desk in the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission today, ending a prolonged honeymoon.

She and U. S. District Court Judge Frank Battisti of Youngstown, were wed Aug. 10, and her prolonged absence brought from Gov. James A. Rhodes' office word to return by this date or face possible automatic resignation.

Mrs. Battisti, the former Gloria Karpinski, was appointed to her $12,000-a-year job by former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

John McElroy, assistant to Rhodes, indicated that with her return the matter is closed.

More Ex-Deputies Given Jail Terms

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Two more Stark County sheriff's deputies were sent to jail Monday for their part in a series of burglaries and thefts committed while they were on duty.

Common Pleas Court Judge John Rossetti sentenced Samuel C. Wright, 60, of East Sparta to 90 days in jail. Alphonso A. Rossetti, 32, of Canton (not related to the judge) was sentenced to jail for 30 days.

Both had pleaded guilty to petty larceny charges.

Eight deputies have been sentenced to prison or jail terms as a result of grand jury indictments returned last February. Two others are awaiting trial.
